

March 13, 2025

To the Honorable Members of the Texas Legislature

Transmittal via Electronic Mail to Key Legislative Staff

Subject: Urgent Opposition to HB3 – A Direct Threat to Private Education

Dear Esteemed Legislators,

Grayson County Conservatives and many other grassroots conservatives, stand resolutely in opposition to Texas House Bill 3 (HB3). As advocates of conservative values, we are steadfast in our mission to advance legislation that upholds individual freedom, aligns with the principles of the Republican Party of Texas (RPT), and protects the sanctity of private education.

HB3, marketed as a 'School Choice' initiative, proposes an education savings account (ESA) program that redirects taxpayer funds to private schooling options. While proponents argue this increases educational freedom, we believe it introduces government control over private education, contradicting conservative values and the principles of the Republican Party of Texas.

- A threat to private education looms: Once taxpayer money is involved, it is inevitable that leftists will attempt to encroach upon private schools and homeschools. Public schools did not decline overnight—it was a gradual deterioration. We cannot rely on politicians alone to safeguard the future of private education, as shifting political landscapes and vague legislative language may leave it vulnerable to exploitation by those who do not prioritize the best interests of the electorate.
- Government overreach erodes educational autonomy: HB3 contradicts RPT Plank 84, which states that education funding should follow the student with "no strings attached." However, HB3 introduces a structure where taxpayer dollars are routed through the Comptroller's Office and directed to pre-approved vendors rather than families, creating an administrative mechanism that allows for future government oversight. History has shown that once government funding enters private education, regulations often follow. In states like Indiana and Florida, similar school choice programs initially promised autonomy but later introduced standardized testing requirements and curriculum mandates for participating private schools. HB3 risks putting Texas on the same path, where financial incentives slowly erode the independence of private education institutions.
- Expansion of bureaucracy invites control: HB3 violates RPT Principle #9, which states, "A free enterprise society unencumbered by government interference or subsidies," by expanding government with 46 new employees (8 in the TEA, 38 in the Office of the Comptroller of Public Accounts) at an average salary of $127,000/year, costing taxpayers $29.3 million by 2030 and escalating to $11 billion by 2036—draining our $24 billion surplus. Furthermore, HB3 not only grows government but also subsidizes and redistributes taxpayer funds, setting a dangerous precedent for increased oversight over private schools and homeschoolers.

- Texans' widespread opposition underscores the bill's flaws: Legislators supporting HB3 have faced intense backlash on social media; during the HB3 hearing, 502 citizens testified against the bill compared to 213 in favor—an unprecedented level of citizen involvement—and the written commentary was overwhelmingly against, filling 2,995 pages with 12,500 comments, signaling a clear rejection of policies that jeopardize private education.
- True school choice already exists without government intrusion: Texans can opt for public schools, charter schools, private schools, or homeschooling. The claim of a lack of choice is a falsehood that distracts from the real issue: HB3's potential to bring government control into private education under the guise of "choice."

Dallas County GOP Chair Lt. Col. Allen West recently cautioned, "Let's not do the same old political thing, rushing to get something passed and then watching politicians pat themselves on the back. The road to hell is paved with good intentions, and if we do not clearly define what the measures of effectiveness are, we will just continue sinking the ship of education."

The trajectory of this bill is concerning, particularly given their potential to undermine the future of private education. Calvin Tillman, President and Co-Founder of Cooke County Conservatives, aptly declared, "This is a clear example of, if you think the problem government has created is bad, just wait till you see the solution."

This is not merely a policy disagreement—it is a call to protect the foundational rights of Texas families to educate their children free from government interference. We urge you to reject these bills and reaffirm your commitment to preserving the independence of private education.
